LOOKING INTO CLIP CHARTS AS A PBIS PRACTICE

Clip charts were once the go to resource for classroom management across classrooms. There are lots of beautiful designs for these on platforms like Pinterest or Teachers Pay Teachers and even a push for a “level up” options.

Over the last few years researchers have looked at the overall outcomes for kids correlated to the use of these card charts or flip charts and are saying that they are not a PBIS practice. Take a look at some of these releases and let us know your thoughts by emailing us or leaving us a voice message.
